THE SENTINEL AT NEW ORLEANS.

To accommodate the throng from the Northwest who will desire to read their favorite home paper while attending the "World's Exposition," the Sentinel has been placed on sale in New Orleans at George F. Wharton & Bro's, No. 5 Carondelet street, between Canal and Common streets.

OLD PAPERS.

Good conditioned old papers for sale at this office at only 40 cents per hundred.

CITY IN BRIEF.

Thieves stole eleven fine chickens from Frank Ellis, 273 South New Jersey street, yesterday morning.

John Sheppard, colored, of 41 Rhode Island street, died at the City Hospital yesterday morning of consumption.

Governor Gray will preside at the celebration of Emmet's birthday by the Emmet Guards, on Wednesday, and will deliver the opening address.

This evening a two-mile speed race, free for all amateurs, will take place at the Wigwam Rink. Quite a number of rapid "rollers" have entered for the contest. A pair of club skates will be presented to the winner.

The trustees of St. Joseph's Church yesterday appointed a committee to arrange for the lecture of Father D. J. McMullen, of Terre Haute, to be given at the church Thursday evening of next week. Father McMullen's subject will be "Anti Catholic Prejudices, and how Catholics may Meet Them for the Mutual Benefit of All Concerned."

The A. O. H. held a meeting yesterday, at which it was decided to celebrate St. Patrick's day at Masonic Hall. There will be no street parade, but a committee was appointed to make the necessary arrangements for the entertainment. An invitation was ordered sent to M. W. Carr, at Washington, to be on hand and deliver the address of the occasion.

There was another gratifying addition to the members of Memorial Presbyterian Church yesterday. At the morning service Rev. Dr. Edson received more than twenty persons into the membership of the church, which makes an increase of upwards of eighty since the beginning of the year. The congregations at both morning and evening services filled the church, and the attendance at the Sunday-school the past two Sundays has numbered nearly 300.

Of these, thirty-six are in the old apartments, fifteen are women, and the balance are in the coop.

A gospel meeting will be held in Y. M. C. A. rooms at 7:30 this evening, at which all are welcome. Singers and gospel workers not otherwise engaged are invited to join in the work.

AMUSEMENT MATTERS.

Charlotte Thompson is booked for an early appearance at English's, in a varied repertoire.

Joe Arthur's new and successful play, "A Cold Day When We Get Left," will be seen here at an early date.

The Zoo will open the week to-night with a strong variety bill and Mr. George France in his great sensational drama, "Block Game."

The "Three Wives and One Husband" Company lay off here until Friday, when they go to Terre Haute for two nights. A conflict in dates at St. Louis is the reason.

Next week Charlotte Thompson appears at English's, supported by Charles Craig, in a select repertoire. "The New Jane Eyre," "Phyllis," "Romanoff" and several other good plays.

Herne's "Hearts of Oak," old but good, will again delight its hundreds of admirers this week at English's, opening to-night. This season the cast is unusually strong. "Betty and the Baby" still forming a part of it.

The Dime Museum will open the week this afternoon with one of the strongest lists of attractions in both curiosity hall and the theaterium ever given in Indianapolis, and a large attendance is assured. This is the place of the town; everybody goes there.

Next week Charlie Hoyt's laughing success, "A Rag Baby," with "Old Sport," Frank Daniels, Beatie Savann, Charles Drew, Louise Kinsing and all the pretty girls return for three nights. This will be pleasing intelligence, not only to "the boys," but everybody else.

An exchange says: "Fantasma" is witty.

"Fantasma" is well played, "Fantasma" is mounted in the most elaborate manner; in fact, "Fantasma" is the greatest of modern pantomimes." Its first appearance in this city will be at the Grand on Thursday evening of next week.

To-night at the Grand Opera House we are to have the first presentation in this city of Joaquin Miller's latest drama, entitled "Tally Ho," by the talented young actor, Mr. R. L. Downing, supported by the charming petite soubrette and vocalist, Miss Ida Mullie, and an excellent company. The play is said to be even better than the "Denise" or "Hank Monk," and is founded upon the life and adventures of "Hank Monk," the famous stage coach driver, who took Horace Greeley across the Sierras a few years ago.

Some actresses have the faculty of stepping into each other's shoes. Little Ida Mullie played "Cupid" in the original cast of "Orpheus and Eurydice," and, on leaving that company and joining Mackay's "Bottle of Ink" Company, introduced the character in that absurdity. She leaves that company to join her husband, who is with Downing's "Tally Ho." Daisy Murdoch stepped into her shoes with the "Orpheus and Eurydice" and "Bottle of Ink" companies. Can we not reasonably look for Daisy's stepping into Ida's shoes and causing a racket in the "Husband and Wife" Company?

Next Thursday evening will witness the first presentation in this city at the Grand Opera House of Henry Guy Carleton's play, "Victor Durand," which has been so successful at Wallack's Theater, New York. The company is said to be an unusually strong one, and is composed of the following artists: George Clarke, Newton Gotthold, Walter Denny, Charles Wheelwright, Max Freeman, Sam DuBois, C. A. Corbett, Sophie Eyre, Louise Dillon, Agnes Elliott and Polly Buckstone. The play will be handsomely mounted. Sale of seats opens to-morrow morning at the theater. Mr. Fred Stinson is here in advance of the company.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. William Murray, of South Bend, and Mrs. Emily Cleveland, of Logansport, are at the Hotel.

R. W. Miers, J. G. McPherson, Bloomington; Edward S. White, Lafayette; M. C. Barnes, Crawfordsville; William H. Jones, Grand Rapids; A. J. Sprague, Toledo; Charles A. Godwin, Chicago; John S. Hawley, New York; Joe B. Carey, Louisville; O. H. Sadler, Detroit; J. B. Drago, Toledo; George Hatch, Boston; Cincinnati; W. J. G. Dean, Haverhill; Mich. S. A. Stevens, Troy; J. V. Wolfe, Lincoln, Neb., are at the Grand Hotel.

At the Bates House: J. Weinheimer, C. O. Paddock, St. Louis; Miss S. L. Hyde, Miss M. A. L. Lane, F. A. Gardner, R. A. Hennessey, Boston; S. D. Woods, Kansas City; Lou McGregor, Brazil; F. M. Branham, William Maslick, Union City; Max Dreitzer, J. P. Schlier, T. Schlier, Philadelphia; R. McElhenny, Detroit; W. P. Brogan, Worcester; H. J. Comstock, Westfield; John E. Link, Terre Haute; Mrs. D. D. Moody, Auburn, Ind.

Mr. Ross Clark leaves to-day for Washington to witness the inauguration of the administration which Indiana Democrats will attest he strove earnestly to elect. The Sentinel volunteers testimony to his unflagging zeal, in fair weather and foul, throughout the campaign. Some of Mr. Clark's friends desire to see him recognized by the incoming President, and have named the office of United States District Attorney as one suitable to his tastes and attainments. Ross Clark is one of the very first young attorneys at the Indianapolis bar. His command of law and his fairness have commended him to a large measure of public regard in several recent cases in the Criminal Court. He is a man of excellent professional and business reputation, an industrious worker and may be depended on to discharge faithfully the duties of any trust which he may accept.

Work for the Coroner.

Gus Roder, aged ten years, living at 216 Davidson street, had his legs cut off while jumping on and off trains at Brightwood Saturday evening. Planner & Homnigh brought him to the city, but he died an hour after the accident.

Reuben Gibbs, colored, living at 338 West North street, died yesterday of consumption. He had been to the City Hospital but had been removed home again, and died without medical attendance.

Mrs. B. Eley, of Lafayette street, died yesterday of consumption without medical attendance. The Coroner will investigate the case.

ANNIVERSARY EXERCISES.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union Celebrates Its Eleventh Anniversary.

Report of the Treasurer—Mrs. Nicolai.

Reviews the Work of the W. C. T. U.—An Interesting Address.

by Mrs. Mary Lathrop, of Michigan.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union celebrated its eleventh anniversary at the Roberts Park M. E. Church last evening. Several hundred persons were in attendance, and much interest was manifested. After singing and prayer by Mrs. L. E. Reed, who made a very affectionate appeal to the Almighty, Mrs. J. R. Nicol delivered an address on the work that has been accomplished by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union since the last anniversary, saying that it had proved itself worthy of its name. It had bound together all sects and creeds and had tried to lead men into a healthier and purer manner of living. She then reviewed the work in detail, referring to each department. In speaking of the lunch room, Mrs. Nicol said they did not realize as much profit therefrom as many would suppose, although a large amount of work was done in this department, and particularly during the recent intense cold weather, when, had it not been for the existence of the same, many an unfortunate would have died from starvation and want. The speaker then explained that these ladies had not labored to secure a reputation, but all of this work had been done simply for the benefit of the city. "And," said the lady, in conclusion, "we desire to impress upon the minds of the people that the Woman's Christian Temperance Union is not a myth but a reality."

The report of the Treasurer was then submitted, showing that the total receipts for the year ending March 1, 1885, were $15,100.00, while the expenditures were $14,400.00.

MRS. LATHROP'S ADDRESS.

Mrs. Mary Lathrop, the well known temperance worker of Michigan, who has many friends in this community, and who is one of the most able speakers on this subject in the country, was then introduced. Mrs. Lathrop is a prepossessing lady, and has a happy faculty of retaining the undivided attention of her hearers from the time she begins to speak until she takes her seat. The three or four hundred people assembled before her last night were deeply impressed with her remarks, for even her voice carries conviction with it. Mrs. Lathrop said that "there was a great smothered cry coming up from the land, and people were beginning to wonder how this question of temperance was to be disposed of. This question now stood on the mount of destiny and decision. On the one hand were the untold numbers of temperance strong in their faith and awaiting with patience the final decision, which is inevitable, while on the other are the friends of the liquor traffic. There were still others undecided on this great question, and they were the ones who were to speak to the people of Indianapolis. Women were still putting brandy in the mince pie and medicine box, and wine on the table in the very presence of their children. The curse was even coming into the homes, taking possession of the pupils and children from the Sabbath school. The church of God was undecided, and there were great many things that conspired to make it so. We had had a false scientific education on this point and even a false religious education. As I said, continued the speaker, "there are a good many preachers who would stand behind this pulpit and tell you that the same God who says in one part of the Bible, 'Look not upon'—"

THE WINE CUP WHEN IT IS RED," commends it to us in another part. Physicians recommend it for medicinal purposes. This is the reason that one portion of this great universe is undecided on this question. I am in favor of total abstinence for the individual and prohibition for the State. People dislike for you to talk to them individually, but that's the way I intend to talk to you this evening. There is not a man who will be drunk to-night, but what has said some time in the course of his life: 'Oh, don't talk to me; I can take care of myself.' Mrs. Lathrop then explained how strong drink affected the organs of the body, saying that no man could come to his physical best who got at total abstinence. The first thing that a drunkard does is to lose in a drunkard's life is his will power, for alcohol was like a two-edged sword, cutting both ways. "If a great bell should be placed on a high mountain to be rung every time a drunkard goes into eternity it would toll every seven minutes in the 365 days. Beloved, when you decide whether or not you shall take wine with your dinner you are deciding the future of your children. For the sake of those dear ones who live after you, would you keep our blood free from this poison? I plead for the purity of home. Truly what a man sows he shall reap. What will be the future of this great and glorious Republic of 50,000,000 of people if we do not?"

"LOOK UP THE RUN SHOPS."

"Does the element that is in this house to-night control the city of Indianapolis?" I know not. I fear that many of the sons of this city have been open all day, and are open to-night, notwithstanding the strenuous efforts of all good citizens to have the law enforced. It is truly a bad state of affairs. You see the effects of the dram shop when you pick up your Monday morning paper and read accounts of the love feuds and quarrels of the dynamiters in New York, Chicago and Pittsburg. Men and women present receipts for making this terrible explosive, and the latter boldly offer to blow up large buildings themselves. You men have not been ready to assist the women as you should, and the dram shop is just as free to-day as it was ten years ago. Will it take a revelation by dynamite to make known to you the evil effects of the American saloon? There is a stammering giant in all of the great cities, and the rumble of discontent is heard all over the land. This giant can only be met by you men, and you must pick up a sufficient amount of courage to meet him. The home pleads for protection to-night, and so does the country which hears the rumble of the distant thunder. I want you to join hands to-night, beloved, for I believe there is a day of victory coming. I believe that the child who is born to-day will see the doors of the dram shops closed. (Many amens.) Mrs. Lathrop concluded with the desire that the citizens of Indianapolis would exert themselves in behalf of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, which a collection was taken up, followed by a short address by Mrs. Nicolai. The meeting then closed.

Death of a Former Resident.

Linus H. Moore, formerly a resident of this city, but for a number of years past living at Philadelphia, Pa., died yesterday of consumption, aged twenty-six years. Mr. Moore was a brother-in-law to Merchant Policeman James Taylor, of this city, and was well known here. The remains were shipped to this city, for burial at Crown Hill.

St. Vincent's Fair.

There was a large attendance yesterday at St. John's Hall upon the meeting called for the purpose of arranging for the proposed fair in the interest of St. Vincent's Hospital. Father Bessones presided over the meeting and H. Harrington was made Secretary.

Captain James McHugh was made Treasurer. Edward Hunt, chairman of the Committee on Paper, reported the bids of several firms for the printing and publishing of the paper during the fair, and the bid of Carlson & Hollenbeck being the lowest, the contract was awarded to them.

The tables for the fair were assigned as follows: Candy table, St. Bridget's Church; refreshments, St. Joseph's Church; china wares, St. Patrick's Church; fancy wares, St. John's Church. The supper table is to be conducted by each parish in succession. The following Parish Committees were appointed to work up the project in their respective districts:

St. John's—Captain James McHugh, Dr. Brennan, St. Patrick's—Thomas Flaherty, John C. Dalton, St. Joseph's—James H. Deery, James Brodan, Edward Doyle, St. Bridget's—Michael O'Brien, P. M. O'Connor, St. Mary's—John Keen, Stephen Bedell, Peter Harrington.

There will be another meeting in two weeks.

Death of Bryan Gavin.

Bryan Gavin, the well-known telephone operator, died last evening at 7:10 o'clock at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Ryan, 101 West South street, of consumption. Mr. Gavin was a telephone operator for eleven years, and has for a long time been the night receiver of the Associated Press dispatches. He was manager of the Mutual Union Telephone Company while that institution was in the city. He has been with the Western Union for fifteen years. Mr. Gavin was twenty-five years old and unmarried. His remains will be taken to North Madison to-morrow at 8:15 a. m. for burial. The deceased was a son of Patrick Gavin, who was drowned in Pogue's Run at the time of the great June overflow, when nine others fell in and gave up their lives to the waters.

The Franklin Fire Insurance Company owns greater inducements for the patronage of Indianapolis than any other company. Not only the cost of insurance, for that is the same as any other sound, safe companies, but in the advantage that comes indirectly to all in building up and supporting the home institution. This is to which consideration to one who will give it thought and follow out the logic of the thing. A word to the wise.
